

The Lab–Materials Testing now Nadcap – MTL Accredited

The Lab-Materials Testing is pleased to announce the addition of a new Nadcap accreditation.

Not only is The Lab Nadcap – NDT accredited, it is now Nadcap – MTL accredited.

“MTL (Materials Testing Laboratory) is an accreditation that covers our mechanical, chemical, metallographic and machining testing processes as well as adding to the robustness of our quality system,” according to spokesman Chris Elder.

“We are now able to offer our complete testing services line under the A2LA and Nadcap quality systems,” Elder said. “The Lab’s commitment to our customers continues to be our number one priority and is the focus of all that we do.”

This new Nadcap accreditation will enable the company to continue offering great customer service as well as adding new quality offerings to its industry.
